The benefactor of this essay contest was Dr. Edmund L. Gergerian, who resolved to establish this award in memory of his late uncle, Father Krikor Guerguerian, aka Krieger and in memory of the 1.5 million Armenians who perished. Born in 1911 in Gurin, Sebastia, Turkey, Fr Guerguerian was the tenth child of a prosperous Armenian Catholic family, whose ancestors originated from Gargar, a fortress-city dating from the time of the Crusaders. He survived from one of many of the forced death marches, which ended in Syria. As a child, he witnessed the murder of his parents, was taken as an orphan to Damascus, Syria, then moved to Lebanon in 1916.

Krieger's own near death experiences compelled him to devote his life to gathering documentary evidence on the Ottoman Turkish Genocide of the Armenians. He collected hundreds of documents in Ottoman, authenticated by seals of government agencies and therefore representing incontrovertible evidence of these events as genocide. He had completed about 80% of his work when he died in 1988. Today, his nephew continues his uncle's work. Krieger was interviewed about his life's work by filmmaker Michael Hagopian and that footage can be seen in the collections of the USC Shoah Foundation at http://vhaonline.usc.edu/. In addition, Dr. Gergerian, in cooperation with historian Taner Akcam, are in the process of scanning the entire original archive to be placed at Clark University's website.

The Armenian American Society for Studies on Stress & Genocide (AASSSG) was founded in 1988 by Dr. Ani Kalayjian to advance national and international understanding of the generational and intergenerational effects of traumatic experiences, such as genocide, earthquake, and war. In 1995 AASSSG established this Krieger annual essay contest.

The Kupferberg Holocaust Center of Queensborough Community College was founded in 1983. Its mission is to use the lessons of the Holocaust to educate current and future generations about the ramifications of unbridled prejudice, racism, and stereotyping.
