Dr. Ani Kalayjian is living proof that there is a reason people from all over the globe choose to immigrate to America. It was her desire to come to this country with the hopes and the dreams of being free, to receive a good education, find a good occupation, and exercise her human rights. While transcending adolescence and gender discrimination in her former country, she has found a higher level of caring and healthy practices for the prevention of disease and promotion of holistic health, educating the mind and the heart. Her analogy of peeling an onion describes how she found her inner core, the gem, the jewel and the diamond that is her.
