

I thought about us today!

Dr. Ani Kalayjian

I thought about us today,
Looking at us at another angle,
Searching for clues and signs,
While creating meaning and
Finding deeper insights...

I observed us today
Observing us in a new light,
I thought about the knowledge we attained,
And about the loss we shared,
And the new evolved wisdom gained!

I wondered about love today
What it is and how we can co-create it,
How to let love transform us and with that
Transform the world around us!

Love is demonstrated in our
Behaviors of understanding,
Empathy, patience and repeated
Acknowledgment of one another...

Love is translated in our behavior
Of trusting one another, with unlimited patience
With full of encouragement even in silence...
Love is in our hearts, bodies and souls forever...

Love is expressed in our amazement!
Amazement of each other's powers
In making healthy decisions,
With powerful convictions and Commitment to serve and only with love ...
